11:25-11:30 AM	Login
11:30-1:30 PM	John Lagimodiere (2 Hours) Using humour and history, John will guide you through 500 years of contact that relates to Saskatchewan’s Indigenous population. In the process people will come to understand Terminology and Demographics, the Treaties and the impact of the Indian Act on First Nations people and Metis history and current happenings. Though some difficult history like residential schools is discussed, the seminar ends on a positive note as we examine the investments, partnerships and trends that are happening in the community as we turn the corner and Indigenous people take their place in Canada and Saskatchewan.

Speakers

Reconciliation Saskatoon is a community of organizations, non-profits, businesses, faith-communities and partners who have come together to initiate a citywide conversation about reconciliation and provide opportunities for everyone to engage in Calls to Action.

John Lagimodiere is the President/Owner of ACS and a well-respected Saskatchewan entrepreneur. John’s Métis family history goes back to the Red River and homeland of the Métis Nation. His great, great, great, great grandmother, Marie Anne Lagimodiere, was the first white woman to settle in Western Canada and grandmother to Louis Riel. John is a member of the Métis Nation of Saskatchewan, CUMFI Local #165.

As a business owner and employer of Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people, John understands the challenges faced by both employees and employers in the workplace. John holds a Sociology degree from University of Saskatchewan with a focus on Aboriginal history and issues. He is a recipient of the Saskatchewan Centennial Medal and the City of Saskatoon Living in Harmony award.

John’s knowledge, experience and storytelling ability have contributed to his success as a communicator, facilitator and keynote presenter.
